

First, state the problem.

What problem is it that you are trying to overcome?

Second, state the solution.

How do you plan to overcome the obstacle that stands in your way?

Third, talk about success.

Depending on the outcome of your mission, what will you win or lose?

Bring it together.

Take your problem, solution and success and put it into one potent mission statement.
